

EME ISOK – NSUK attended St. Theresa Secondary School Edem Ekpai, in Etinan Local Government, School of Arts & Science, Uyo, in Uyo local Government and Spelman College, Atlanta Georgia.

She worked at the Martin Luther King Center for Non-Violence Social Change for ten years where she helped to implement the Kingian principles of Non Violent and love for the "Beloved Community". She has also worked with various Head Start programs in different capacities and is currently the Head Start Director for Clayton County Services Authority Inc. Forest Park, Georgia.

Eme Isok-Nsuk is a Board member of the Georgia Head Start Association, where she serves in the Training & Technical Assistance Committee. She is also a member of the Georgia Community Action Association.

Through the years, she has diligently served her local Akwa Ibom State Association, Atlanta Chapter as Secretary 1994-1995; Vice-President 1995-1997; President 1997-1999; Atlanta House Committee Treasurer and Board of Trustee member current; Member and one time Vice President of Akwa Ibom Women Initiatives, Atlanta; Member of Mboho Mkparawa Ibibio, Atlanta and also a Board member of Mboho Mkparawa Ibibio in the United States; AKISAN Scholarship Project Committee Chairperson current.

Her philosophy regarding being of service to others, comes from the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the book "A Testimony of Hope"

"If you want to be important---wonderful. If you want to be recognized ----wonderful. If you want to be great ---- wonderful. But recognize that he who is greatest among you shall be your servant. That's your new definition of greatness."

Eme Isok-Nsuk, a native of Ifa Atai Etoi in Uyo Local Government, now resides in Jonesboro, Georgia. She is married to Michael Udo-Nsuk, a native of Ibiaku Itam in Itu local Government, and they are blessed with several children.